Do electronic cigarettes cause cancer?

Author: ProSmoke Electronic Cigarettes Views: 5378 Created: 10/18/2014 12 16 am 100 Rating/ 1 Voters

According to Casaa.org

"Though testing by the FDA and some researchers have discovered trace amounts of tobacco-specific nitrosamines, which are known to cause cancer with high exposure, the amounts found were extremely low and unlikely to cause cancer. To put it in perspective, an e-cigarette contains nearly the exact same trace levels of nitrosamines as the FDA-approved nicotine patch and about 1,300 times less nitrosamines than a Marlboro cigarette. This means that e-cigarettes would not be any more likely to cause cancer than FDA-approved nicotine gums, patches or lozenges."

ProSmoke is eager to continue working with testing groups and regulatory bodies to ensure proper risk education and labeling, should it be determined necessary in the future.

Will Electronic Cigarettes and the ProSmoke Help Me Quit Smoking?

Author: ProSmoke Electronic Cigarettes Views: 8217 Created: 04/12/2011 10 49 am 100 Rating/ 1 Voters

Ask a question about this

Our products are not a smoking cessation product and have not been tested as such. Electronic cigarettes are alternative products that offer the freedom to "smoke" anywhere (Please check your local laws and regulations). The ProSmoke produces no first or second hand smoke, virtually odor-free smoking, non-flammability, convenience, and lower cost than traditional smoking.

The FDA prohibits electronic cigarette manufacturers from saying they are a smoking cessation product and although many users report using it successfully for this, it is not the product's intention, purpose or claim.

Today is the day to make the switch to electronic!
