Here is an update to my (Samantha) experience being on these products. I started taking Protandum NRF1 and NRF2 with Axio and the fat burn and cleanse from the Physiq line.

I have been doing this a little over 2 1/2 months and have had great results and yes I was skeptical at first. I got permission from my doctor before I started and he said oh it is just a fad but he said I'll give you 3 month's and we will see.

After the 1st month I had lost 14 pounds. He did my blood work because I have been taking about 8 different medicine for different issues. Well my blood work came back way better than what my doctor expected. I had been running borderline diabetic where my sugar was running around 200. Based on my blood work after being on this my number was 88 yes I said 88. My doctor was really impressed and said he wanted to see how it does.

I went to the doctor yesterday for another follow up I had lost 9 pounds and he has taken me off some of my medicine. I can explain in more detail about them if you like just send me a message.

Yes I thought what you are thinking this is not real it's a joke. Until I tried it I was right there with ya. I have seen a difference this has made on me I use to go to bed at 8:30pm now it's like midnight and still get up at 5:45am feeling like I had a great night sleep.

If you want more energy and better health let me help explain how this can help you get healthier.

Believe me I did not believe it either.
