M Silvey from Great Britain used Forever Living Products Aloe Vera for Cancer and claimed it was beneficial after several months.

"In January 1993 my dad realised that something could be very wrong. He went to his GP and a biopsy was arranged. Sadly it concluded that my dad did in fact have prostate cancer. He went through an intensive course of radiotherapy for eight weeks. After continuing having an implant every month and also hormone tablets the situation was becoming a worry. My fathers PSA levels (Prostate Specific Antigen) that tests the levels of cancer and the progression were closely monitored. Three years ago these PSA levels had risen to 14.7 even after radiotherapy and his daily and monthly medication.

At about that time I had started my own business working alongside Forever Living Products who are the largest growers of Aloe Vera in the world. We were very keen for my dad to start to take a daily dose of Aloe Vera Gel. I felt it could only raise energy levels and thus enhance his life. He continued to take the Aloe Vera gel and was also encouraged to take one Bee Propolis tablet, a natural antibiotic, which aids the immune system.

Over this last year the gradual drop in the PSA levels has astounded my dad, our family and GPs. The PSA at its highest was 14.7 and had continually risen for 13 years. After taking the Aloe Gel and Propolis tablet for three years his levels are 0.4.

My dad is convinced that these products have helped this dramatic drop in PSA. The whole family has been overwhelmed with Dad's progress if a little baffled. However, I like my dad truly believe in the products. His words to me are, 'I will never stop taking it'"
