

For over 80 years, GNC has sold quality nutritional supplements that help people live healthier lives. Simply put, we couldn't continue to grow as a responsible retailer with a highly credible brand unless we had sound quality procedures in place and respected our customers' confidence in our product quality.

GNC brand products are manufactured, packaged, tested, and distributed in accordance with the highest industry standards and in conformance with the US Food and Drug Administration's (FDA) current good manufacturing practices as well as other federal regulations and all applicable laws. GNC's manufacturing facility is subject to periodic inspections by the FDA and has routinely passed these inspections.

GNC also sells third party products that are widely sold by other retailers. However, GNC requires that the distributors of these products certify that the products are in full compliance with FDA regulations and applicable law.

GNC will continue to play a leading role in the future, as it has for more than 80 years, in setting industry quality and compliance standards and providing our customers with highest quality supplements available.