It works!

January 13, 2019

Verified Purchase

I really do feel like it's easier to concentrate. I'm a student and I need all the help I can get! Could I go whine and get ADD meds? Sure, but those are incredibly dangerous and harmful to your body in the long run. This is a natural way to be able to focus in on what you need to, ive been using it about a week and can really tell a difference

Does help with ADHD.

January 14, 2019

Verified Purchase

I was diagnosed in high school & have taken prescription medications on and off for the last 25 years. I've always had horrible insomnia as a side effect of ADHD medications, so I don't take them regularly. NeuroStim does help on my off days. I've noticed a definite improvement with remembering things, which has always been a struggle. I like that this supplement is caffeine free. I don't feel all jittery like I do when I try to compensate with caffeine. I will be ordering again for sure!

Caffeine free & no jitters!

January 16, 2019

Verified Purchase

I really like that these are caffeine free. I've tried a few different products with no luck in the focus department and then I found these. They definitely help me to stay on task at work which is exactly what I needed them for. I do recommend.

A much helpful product/vitamin for our mental clarity & more

January 22, 2019

Verified Purchase

With all the stressors of life I had been dealing with mental fog like we call it and been looking for something that could help me but also was safe and I came across these and am glad I did. I have been taking them for a few weeks now and so far so good. It really has helped with my concentration, mental clarity and is helping with the memory issue lol. Can't wait to continue to use them and see more results.

Energy and focus are on the up and up!

January 20, 2019

Verified Purchase

I have been taking for consistently for awhile and have found clarity and mental focus. I like that they do not contain caffeine and have found myself not needing to feel dependent on my morning drink as much! The capsules are bit big but you can open them and take the contents if needed. I just found taking them slower helps and I have had no trouble since I slowed down! I would recommend this product and you will see changes quickly!
